Local Markets Commentary

The Australian market opens mid-week trade with the $A at ~US65.00c, a major domestic bank reporting earnings, and material data due out of China early afternoon, ahead of a key speech by the Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) deputy governor this evening.

US equities markets continued variously higher overnight.

Locally today, the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) releases two publications at 11.30am AEDT – a business turnover indicator report for September and a final September building approvals report, containing additional information to that released in last Wednesday's report.

This evening, RBA deputy governor Michele Bullock speaks on The Economic Outlook at the Australian Business Economists annual dinner in Sydney, the address scheduled to commence 8.05pm AEDT.

Also today, several large-cap stocks are hosting AGMs and providing company and industry updates.

Stocks trading ex-dividend today include CSR, KMD and RMD. Please see p3 for a detailed ex-dividends list.

Regionally today, China is scheduled to report October CPI and PPI readings at 12.30pm AEDT.

Japan's Tankan indices are due as the ASX opens and October bank lending within an hour of the commencement of trade.

This afternoon, Japan also hosts a 30-year government bond auction.

In overnight commodities trade, oil fell for a second consecutive session, Brent crude settling below $US95.5/bbl.

US gold futures traded sharply higher, above $US1700/oz.

Iron ore (Nymex CFR China, 62% Fe) swung lower, closing beneath $US85.5/t.

LME (3mth evening) copper was reported 0.7% higher in open outcry trade. Nickel was reported up 0.6% and aluminium to have added  $^{\circ}0.1\%$  for the session.

Last night's LME final price updates were unavailable from IRESS at time of publication. These are expected to become available via IRESS at 11.30am AEDT.

The $A appreciated to US65.05c after trading at ~US64.50c – US64.60c early yesterday evening.

Overseas Markets Commentary

Major European and UK equities markets opened cautiously overnight but subsequently gained steadily.

US markets opened stronger but vacillated in second half-trade as US citizens voted in mid-term elections ahead of some key economic indicators to come this week.

Earlier yesterday, Australian monthly business and consumer sentiment survey specialists each reported a drop in confidence, the business confidence index tumbling to zero from five and consumer sentiment falling to 78 from 83.7.

Among overnight data releases, euro zone September retail sales rose 0.4% for the month, in line with expectations and against a flat August result.

Against September 2021, sales were down 0.6%, however.

Meanwhile, gains in German bond yields helped push the euro 0.48% higher against the $US.

In the UK earlier yesterday, the BRC retail sales monitor indicated October like-for-like retail sales were 1.2% higher than for October 2021. Forecasters had anticipated a 0.9% increase.

In the US, a small business optimism index declined by 0.8 to 91.3. Meanwhile, the IBD/TIPP economic optimism index fell to 40.4 from 41.6, soundly defying forecasts for an improvement to 42.0.

Tonight in the US, mid-term election vote tallying continues. Initial indications are in, but final results are not expected this week.

Economic indicators scheduled for release in the US tonight include September wholesale inventories, together with weekly mortgage applications and rates.

In addition, the US conducts a 10-year note auction.

Elsewhere, Germany hosts a 10-year bond auction and Russia reports October inflation.

Companies listed to report earnings later today and tonight include: Asahi Kasei, Fuji Oil, Honda Motor, Isuzu Motors, Japan Steel Works, Kirin Holdings, Kobe Steel, Mitsui Mining & Smelting, Modec, Nippon Paper Industries, Nissan Motor and Singapore Telecommunications (Optus parent).

In overnight corporate news, Walt Disney streaming figures, reported post-US trade, reportedly pleased but not so overall quarterly profit.

Commodities Commentary

Oil – prices swung during overnight trade, China having reported growing Covid case numbers, US mid-term election counting underway and US diesel and petrol stocks reported lower-than-expected at the end of October.

Meanwhile, US government agency the EIA reduced its forecast 2023 US crude output by 21% from the previous prediction but also cut anticipated domestic energy demand.

Tonight, a weekly US petroleum inventories report is due from the EIA.

Overnight, post-US trade, the American Petroleum Institute has published a weekly report which includes an estimated 5.618MMbbl build in US crude stocks last week.

Gold – the $US index rose early but an ultimate swing lower, plus some short-covering, helped favour overnight gold interest.

Crypto currencies fell, prompting some safe-haven buying.

Tonight's considerations are expected in part to be related to speculation regarding a US CPI update tomorrow night.

Base metals – overnight trade was pushed and pulled by Covid reports out of China, inventories, production news and an early stronger $US.

Stocks in LME-registered and SHFE warehouses continued to be reported at relatively low levels.

In Chile, Codelco revealed it was seeking a 33.3% premium higher premium for copper supply to customers in China during 2023.

In addition, the world's largest copper producer announced a smelter was due this month to commence 135 days of maintenance.

China's October producer prices and CPI are scheduled for release today.
